Interface

The interface window is in the upper left corner. It contains the basic game information: work performed, stamina, mood and the current time.

If the level of endurance and mood are positive (50 and more), badges of endurance, and mood will be green.

If the level of endurance and mood are negative (less than 50), badges of endurance, and mood will be red.

You can leave the office just after 18:30 and only if you do all the work.

In the end of the day, if the level of endurance or mood will be negative or you do not have time to do all the work in time – Mark will refuse to write a book.
